

IN PARIS ... Reds Pass Up Call For Serious Talk

Paris (AP) — The Vietnamese Communists derided President Nixon's latest troop withdrawal program Thursday and cold shouldered his call for serious negotiations.

"President Nixon has renewed his call for serious negotiations," U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce told the 108th session of the Paris peace talks. "I await your positive and constructive response. An early peace in Vietnam, and early end to the killing there, demands no less."

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong response was to reiterate their old demands for a complete withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam.

The Communists reacted quickly to Nixon's speech Wednesday night in which he claimed success for Vietnamization, announced a slight increase in monthly U.S. troop withdrawals and gave assurance that "American involvement in this war is coming to an end."

"Telling Lies" The North Vietnamese said Nixon is "persisting in telling lies to the American people."

South Vietnam, with strong U.S. support, proposed a mutual repatriation or internment in a neutral country of able-bodied prisoners who have undergone a long period of captivity.

The Communists harked back to their old position that talks on prisoner release must follow Washington's fixing of a date for total withdrawal of its troops from South Vietnam.

North Vietnam accused the United States of "orchestrating a loud campaign of propaganda on the false issue of prisoners of war."

Nixon 'Pretending'

North Vietnam's acting chief delegate, Nguyen Minh Vy, said that "to pretend there were great victories after heavy defeats is the way the Nixon administration seeks to avoid confessing the failure of the Nixon doctrine and policy of Vietnamizing the war and to press the policy of aggression and war."

Vietnamization is the process of training the South Vietnamese to take over completely the combat role in the war.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the Viet Cong delegation, asserted that Vietnamization "has run into grave failures."

Nixon Policy Violates Ban

... APPEALS COURT RULES

Cincinnati (UPI) — A federal appeals court rejected the government's argument Thursday that it can wiretap domestic groups without a court order if it feels they threaten the security of the country.

In a major setback for the Nixon administration's claims of broad wiretap authority, the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a Detroit federal court's ruling that such a policy violates the Constitution's 4th Amendment prohibition against unreasonable search and seizure.

Disclosure Ordered

On a 3-2 vote, the appeals court ruled that the Justice Department must disclose the contents of the conversations to Lawrence "Pun" Plamondon, 25, a White Panther accused of conspiracy in the bombing of the Central Intelligence Agency office in Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 29, 1968.

The court's majority said a major consideration in its ruling "was the fact that disclosure may well prove to be the only effective protection against illegal wiretapping available to defend 4th amendment rights of the American public."

In appealing U.S. District Judge Damon J. Keith's ruling Jan. 27, the Justice Department asked that if it lost the appeal, it be advised before the wiretapped conversations were turned over to Plamondon.

Not Immediately

It said disclosure of the conversations would prejudice the national interest and asked the appeals court for the opportunity to determine whether to appeal further, let the conversations be made public, or drop the case. The appeals court did not order the government to make immediate disclosure of the conversations.

In arguing the case before the appellate court, the government contended that "when the president . . . determines that certain individuals or groups pose a danger to the internal security of the United States as to warrant the use of electronic surveillance to gather intelligence information concerning the activities and plans of such individuals and groups, the 4th Amendment does not require prior warrant."

Justice Department lawyers argued that the president has just as much authority to order domestic wiretaps when he feels the nation's security is endangered as he does when the danger comes from a foreign government.

But the majority of the appellate judges, in an opinion written by Judge George Edwards, said: "We hold in dealing with the threat of domestic subversion, the executive branch of our government . . . is subject to the limitations of the 4th Amendment of the Constitution when undertaking searches and seizures for oral communications by wire."

Illegally Intercepted

"We hold that the District Court judge properly found that the conversations of the defendant Plamondon were illegally intercepted and cannot hold that the disclosure order is in abuse of judicial discretion."

But in dissent, Judge Paul C. Weick agreed with the government's claims that only the president has enough information to know whether a domestic group is a danger to security.

In addition to Plamondon, two other men identified as White Panthers were also charged in the bombing. They were John Forrest, 21, and John Sinclair, 28. They were not overheard by the government.

The Nixon administration, in its court briefs and in speeches by leading officials, has contended that the president has the authority to order domestic security wiretaps without any restraints by either the legislative or judicial branches.

Its stepped-up wiretapping of radical groups, both of the right and the left, would be seriously undermined if the Supreme Court upheld Thursday's appeals court decision.

Youth Arrested In Oshkosh Shooting

Oshkosh — Police apprehended a 17-year-old youth wanted for the shooting of Oshkosh Police Chief Richard Vandermate Thursday about 15 hours after the incident.

Ogallala Policeman Bill Sauer found the youth, Jesse Travis Rouse, on a ledge in the basement of a vacant Oshkosh house at about 4:45 p.m.

Sauer said Rouse surrendered without resistance.

Law enforcement officers had set up roadblocks and combed the area throughout the day in a massive manhunt for the suspect.

Wounded Critically

Vandermate, 32, was critically wounded at about 1:30 a.m. Thursday when he sought to arrest Rouse at an Oshkosh tavern.

The police chief was reported in critical condition at St. Mary's Hospital in North Platte after undergoing surgery Thursday morning.

Garden County Attorney Marvin Romig said Rouse had escaped from the Oshkosh City Jail shortly before the shooting incident.

He was serving a 90-day sentence for parole violation, Romig said.

Sheriff William Keisel said the youth had been charged with assault after threatening Vandermate with a gun nearly two months ago.

Police reported that the suspect was taken to the Garden County Jail immediately after his arrest.

Sauer reportedly checked the vacant house where Rouse was discovered on a suggestion of the owner, Mrs. Minnie Dowson.

Romig said the shootout occurred about an hour after Rouse escaped.

Rouse was in a tavern when discovered by Vandermate, Romig said. Entrance to the tavern was made by kicking in a window of the front door, authorities said.

Rouse was inside and Vandermate outside the tavern during the shooting. Some windows in businesses across the street were struck by bullets and some street lights were shattered.

The shots awakened Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erb, who live across the street from where the shootings occurred. They called authorities.

Vandermate, who is 30 years old, has served as police chief four months and has been on the police force about nine months.

Romig said Vandermate was shot six or seven times with a .22 caliber rifle after he ordered Rouse to come out of Larry's Tavern.

Came Out Shooting

The youth "apparently came out shooting," the county attorney said.

He said witnesses reported that Vandermate was shot three times while lying on the ground. He sustained wounds in the neck, lower stomach, chest, wrist, upper arm and back, Romig said.

The chief reportedly fired only one shot to attract attention, Romig said, before staggering 100 feet to his police cruiser and turning on his siren. Vandermate was found slumped across the front seat of the vehicle.

Romig said the suspect apparently pried open the lock on his cell in order to escape.

Store Burglarized

Police later learned that Gamble's, an Oshkosh hardware store, had been burglarized and a .22 caliber rifle stolen. Some $300 also was reported stolen from Martin's Tavern.

Young Rouse, member of a large family had been one of a group of youths selected to go to Washington last fall to participate in the juvenile crime study commission, which was addressed by President Nixon and British Prime Minister Edward Heath.

Returning to Oshkosh young Rouse also attended a regional juvenile crime subcommittee meeting in Scottsbluff along with the sheriff.

Records show that on January of this year he was charged with assault and battery and injury to private property and placed on probation, but he violated probation later when, while with a group of teen-agers, he allegedly threatened the police chief with a gun. He was returned to custody.

Democrats 'To End' Economic Slump

Washington (AP) — Charging that do-nothing policies have left the nation "still in the throes of the 1970 recession," Speaker Carl Albert said Thursday that House Democratic leaders can no longer wait for President Nixon to repair the economy.

"We accept the responsibility," the Oklahoma Democrat told a news conference, "of providing the national leadership so urgently needed to end our prolonged economic slump."

Albert spelled out no program for restoring the economy but suggested the Democrats' answer is to pump more federal money into it.

"An economy operating at an annual rate of $70 billion below capacity as ours was in the fourth quarter of 1970," he said, "needs priming badly and government is the logical source."

His statement indicated Democratic reworking of the President's economic proposals — such as Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills' overhauling of Nixon's welfare and revenue sharing plans — may be a House hallmark between now and the 1972 presidential election.

Asked if his statement amounted to the Democrats' 1972 economy plank, Albert replied: "It does for now."

Worst Since '58

He said the past four months' unemployment rate is a nine-year high, corporate profits and manufacturing employment are at a five-year low and unemployment of professional and technical workers is the worst since 1958.

"I find nowhere in the statistics any prospect for recovery, much less the boom predicted by the administration," Albert said, "as long as we continue to follow do-nothing policies."

"The House Democratic leadership," he said, "believes that we cannot afford to be mere sideline critics, nor can we wait for the President to take the lead."

Inflation Alerts

He said Nixon's inflation alerts, selective controls on the construction industry and imposing of $12 billion appropriated by Congress for federal construction projects are not the correct actions at this time.

The House already "is moving into the void left by the inactivity of the Nixon administration," Albert said, listing several actions including Mills' proposal for even more federal assumption of welfare costs than Nixon asked.

The actions Albert listed also included a two-year extension of the President's authority to establish wage-price controls and upcoming consideration of a job-creating $2 billion public works bill and an emergency bill to create more jobs for the unemployed in government.

PETER, Who Nearly Failed Him.

PETER . . .

Ten Who Knew Jesus

Ninth of a Series
By JOHN J. STEWART

"Get thee behind me Satan! Thou art an offense unto me!"

The stinging rebuke that Peter had once received from the Master was well deserved. This Peter knew now.

When Jesus had called him to the ministry, Peter had tried to beg off. "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord!"

But Jesus had refused to take no for an answer. "Come, follow Me," he had invited, "and I will make you a fisher of men."

It had not been an easy road for Peter to travel. He loved Jesus, believed in Him, testified that He was the Christ, the Son of God. Yet, he was beset by the weaknesses of men.

Jesus graciously had bestowed upon him this name of Peter, meaning a rock. What a mockery he had made of the name. When the going got tough, the rock had crumbled into sand.

Peter had vowed to Jesus that though all other men should desert Him and deny Him, yet he, Peter, would never do so. But he had.

There in the palace of the high priest the night Jesus was arrested and sentenced to die, Peter in fear had denied being His disciple. Three times he had sworn the monstrous lie, "I do not know the man!"

With the death of Jesus, Peter, in discouragement, had returned to his fishing nets on the Sea of Galilee. He had taken six of the other apostles with him. All night long they had fished, with no success.

Early in the morning Jesus appeared on the nearby shore and directed them where to make a fine catch of fish. He also prepared their breakfast.

After breakfast Jesus, pointing to the fish, asked Peter, "Lovest thou Me more than these?"

"Yea, Lord," said Peter fervently. "Thou knowest that I love Thee."

Three times in his fright Peter had denied the Christ, and now three times Jesus repeated his question, "Lovest thou Me more than these?" And each time the distressed Peter avowed his love, Jesus charged him with the trust, "Feed my sheep!"

There in the dawn of a new day, Peter truly did accept the challenge of the ministry, of devoting his life to the service of others, even as Jesus had done.

NU Students Favor Joint Treaty Of Peace

University of Nebraska-Lincoln students approved, by almost a two to one margin, the Joint Treaty of Peace Between the People of the United States and the People of South Vietnam and North Vietnam at the Associated Students of the University of Nebraska (ASUN) general election Wednesday.

A representative of the University of Nebraska Peace Treaty Committee, Jack McCormick, a Vietnam war veteran and University student from Osceola, said this approval is "another means of peaceful protest" without a call to arms or a mandate for violence.

Unofficial tabulations indicated that Steven

Fowler of Lincoln was the winner of a five-man presidential race. With an election return showing a 100% increase in students voting compared to the 1970 general election, Fowler won the race with Michele Coyle and Rod Hernandez, elected first and second vice president, respectively.

Students, voting on three referendum issues, voted 3,076 to 888 in favor of continuing the subsidizing from student fees for the campus newspaper, The Daily Nebraskan. The newspaper will continue to receive the $1.25 per full time student per semester.

The third referendum, PACE, a program assessing each student $3.50 in fees to finance low income scholarships, was passed under the proposal that students could decide at the time they pay their tuition and fees whether to contribute the $3.50 or not to the program. This was passed in favor of students automatically making payment with the money refundable later.

Nixon Reportedly Has Pullout Date

Washington (AP) — Two top Senate leaders, Republican Hugh Scott and Democrat Robert C. Byrd said Thursday they believe President Nixon plans to remove all U.S. troops from Indochina by the end of his term in January 1973 — provided North Vietnam frees U.S. war prisoners.

Scott, the Senate GOP Leader, and Byrd, the Democratic whip, said in separate news conferences they drew this interpretation from Nixon's comments in briefing congressional leaders before Wednesday night's announcement of further U.S. troop withdrawals.

"He did not state a definite date," Byrd said, "but I had the very definite impression from what was said that the President has a date in mind." Asked if the date was before the end of Nixon's term, the West Virginia Democrat replied "I think that is substantially correct as I understood the President."

Scott said the date is flexible — depending on what happens with the prisoners.

The White House, meanwhile, said it is standing by Nixon's refusal to fix a date for total U.S. withdrawal. The President said he expects to be held accountable by American voters if he fails to redeem his 1968 campaign pledge to end U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Although Scott saw significance in Nixon's omission of any statement about maintaining a residual U.S. force in Vietnam, he said the administration still has no intention of completing the U.S. pullout while Americans are held by the Hanoi government.

On this point, Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., urged the administration to tell the North Vietnamese at Paris it could agree to a fixed withdrawal date in return for a phased exchange of prisoners and a guarantee U.S. forces would be permitted to withdraw without harassment.

In this way, Percy said in an interview, Hanoi's insistence on a fixed U.S. withdrawal date "could be used to bargain with."

88 GIs Fall In Battle

Saigon (AP) — American battlefield deaths climbed sharply to 88 last week in the Indochina war, the highest weekly toll in the last nine months, the U.S. Command announced Thursday.

In other developments: —A terrorist bombing wrecked a downtown Saigon bar crowded with U.S. soldiers Thursday night, killing two persons, one an American serviceman and the other a Vietnamese woman. Twenty-nine Americans and five Vietnamese were wounded. Five of the U.S. injured remained hospitalized.

—U.S. planes hammered North Vietnamese forces besieging a South Vietnamese artillery base in the central highlands.

Of the 88 Americans killed last week 33 died in the North Vietnamese sapper attack March 28 on Fire Base Mary Ann 50 miles south of Da Nang.

44,876 Total Dead
The U.S. Command also reported 347 Americans wounded last week, a drop from the previous week's total of 542. The latest figures raised to 44,876 the number of Americans killed in the war and to 297,258 the total wounded.

U.S. officials tallied 22 deaths last week from nonhostile causes such as accidents and illness, raising the total in that category to 9,408.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 523 government troops killed and 1,178 wounded last week, compared with the previous week's figures of 756 killed and 1,726 wounded.

The allied commands claimed 3,687 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed last week to boost the war total to 730,756.

In Cambodia, enemy troops seized a section of Highway 4, the lifeline route linking the capital city of Phnom Penh with the country's only deep water port at Kompong Som on the Gulf of Siam.

2 Miles Abandoned
Cambodian paratroops abandoned a two-mile section of the highway Thursday after they had been driven back by a heavy attack.

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong opened up the attack Wednesday with mortar fire against the paratroops attempting to move westward down Highway 4 about 56 miles Southwest of Phnom Penh.

The Cambodian command claimed 200 of the enemy were killed and acknowledged that 21 government troops were killed and about 100 wounded.

Reports Say FBI Agents Sometimes Assault Police

Boston (AP) — FBI informants working undercover with New Left organizations have assaulted policemen at demonstrations, according to purported FBI documents.

One of the memoranda told agents in a special squad assigned to New Left groups to caution their informants not to get so carried away at demonstrations that they participate in assaults on police.

The document, said to have been issued by the FBI's

Philadelphia office, said that there had been reports of agents getting involved in attacks on officers.

Copies of the FBI documents were obtained from Resist, a Cambridge-based antiwar group. They allegedly were part of a batch of about 1,000 documents stolen March 8 from the FBI office in Media, Pa., and distributed to some news media and public figures by a group calling itself the Citizens Commission to Investigate the FBI. The FBI has confirmed that documents were taken from the office.

The memo indicated the special squad was assigned to investigate groups such as the Students for a Democratic Society, underground newspapers, communes and anarchists.

Another special squad, the memos indicated, was to probe "Old Left" organizations such as the Communist Party and various Trotskyite groups.

One document informed the Philadelphia special agent of a tip on the March 1 bombing of the Capitol.

Still another memorandum ordered agents to make contacts in the black community and in black and white extremist groups to gain information on demonstrations or potential riot situations.

23 Big Farms' Take Over $500,000

Washington (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said Thursday that 23 big farm operators got federal farm subsidies of $500,000 or more in 1970 — the last year the law will allow most of them to get such large payments.

Of the 23, nine big farmers got $1 million or more and the largest total payment — $4.4 million — went to J. G. Boswell Co. of Corcoran, Calif., a large cotton producer who has led the subsidy list for several years. Most of the big payments went to giant cotton and sugar producers.

The records opened to reporters showed that 137,000 farmers were paid $5,000 or more last year, accounting for about 45 1/2% of the total payments of $3.7 billion. The remainder of the money paid for acreage reductions and price supports was divided among nearly 23 million small farmers, renters or part owners of small farms.

The records for price supports and other programs for cotton, feed grains, wheat, sugar, meat and wool showed that the nine farmers who received $1 million or more received a total of $17.7 million, or about 0.5% of the 1970 payments. The 14 farms in the $500,000 to $1 million category received about $9 million.

All but six of the 23 farmers who got more than $500,000 will be affected by a law, effective with the 1971 crops, that a grower cannot collect payments of more than $55,000 on each of his wheat, feed grains or cotton crops.

The six who will not be affected are those who got big payments for sugar production. Congress, in writing the new farm subsidy ceiling, did not include sugar producers.

In addition to the J. G. Boswell farm, the other producers getting $1 million or more last year included:

Giffne Inc., Huron, Calif., $4,095,114; South Lake Farms, Fresno, Calif., $1,875,454; Salyer Land Co., Corcoran, Calif., $1,547,174; H. M. Tenneci (formerly listed as Kern County Land Co.), Bakersfield, Calif., $1,317,061; Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., Punahoa, Hawaii, $1,232,166; Waiialua Sugar Co. Ltd., Waiialua, Hawaii, $1,111,060; Vista Del Llano Farms, Firebaugh, Calif., $1,105,762; U.S. Sugar Corp., Clewiston, Fla., $1,073,980.

The 14 farms that received $500,000 to $1 million were:

S. A. Camp Farms Co., Shafter, Calif., $903,650; Farmers Investment Co., Sahuarita, Ariz., $885,776; Delta & Pine Land Co., Scott, Miss., $814,646; Mount Whitney Farms, Five Points, Calif., $804,583; Kirby Hughes, Tucson, Ariz., $797,428; Westlake Farms, Stratford, Calif., $721,129; Boston Ranch Co., Lemoore, Calif., $677,225; State of Montana, Helena, Mont., $668,757; Telles Ranch Inc., Firebaugh, Calif., $632,779; C & V Growers Inc., Maricopa, Ariz., $543,577; Oahu Sugar Co. Ltd., Waipahu, Hawaii, $528,884; South Puerto Rico Sugar Co., South Bay, Fla., $522,899; Lihue Plantation Co. Ltd., Lihue, Hawaii, $516,694; Jack Harris Inc., Coalinga, Calif., $500,068.

Albert, Boggs Split Over FBI

Washington (AP) — House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., disagreed Thursday with the demand of his top floor leader, Rep. Hale Boggs, that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover resign.

Asked at a news conference whether he agreed with Boggs' demand, Albert said: "Not on the basis of anything I know now."

The FBI chief has denied Boggs' allegations and the Justice Department has asked for a congressional investigation of the wire tapping charges.

Singer Finds Happiness Is Becoming A Farmer

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau
Wilber — It was years ago that Floyd Herman, joking with an eastern reporter about reincarnation, said he'd choose to come back as a duck.

"I never saw an unhappy duck," he had been quoted. "And here is a creature which is at home in all three elements: land, water and air."

Nearly three decades later, the Wilber native is quite as happy as his admired feathered friends. And he's since flitted among the varied elements of this world himself.

Prominent Farmer
Now a prominent Saline county farmer, he has achieved a national reputation among agricultural cooperatives. And he long ago won measures of fame as an accomplished gymnast and professional vocalist — a baritone who just missed the big time.

Taking advanced voice while doing WWII defense work in California, Herman was chosen to audition for the lead role of Curly in Broadway's "Oklahoma." But he caught cold enroute to New York, lost even his speaking voice and helplessly watched another actor get the part as the casting deadline passed.

Then came four years of engagements in theaters and night clubs, glamorous sharings of the footlights with the great and near-great. But continuous travel wasn't for a man who had already started a family back in Los Angeles.

"First True Remark"
"One day my agent was trying to force me into a burlesque booking and shouted that I was 'nothing but a damned farmer,'" Herman recalled. "I told him that was his first true remark of the day and two hours later I was on a bus. That ended my show career."

Comfortable now on an irrigated 220 acres bordering the Big Blue river, he likes to reflect as well on helping start the University of Nebraska's first gymnastics team. At 58 he's nearly as trim as when he was one of 89 American gymnasts at the 1932 International Sokol Slet in Czechoslovakia.

His "N" was one of the first two ever awarded by the University in gymnastics. It was a surprise honor after a self-coached team, furnishing their own uniforms and paying their own way, won four meets in three days on a trip to Colorado.

Farming Is First Love
"I graduated in education, but in 1935 the only job I could find was one in Alabama paying $95 a month," he recalled. "So I tried a few years in an uncle's assay laboratory, then some aircraft work and the show business before returning to my father's farm. Farming has always been my first love."

Elected a board member of the Farmers Elevator Co. of Wilber 19 years ago, Herman has gradually become more involved in cooperative affairs. For several years he was board chairman of the Farmers Union State Exchange, where he spearheaded a significant merger with Felco of Iowa, another wholesale regional co-op.

He has also been on the board of the Cooperative League of the USA and the Mutual Service Insurance Co., and currently is a director of the National Corn Growers Assn. He is a member of the Nebraska Hall of Agricultural Achievement and is one of three Nebraskans on the governing board of the Agricultural Hall of Fame.

Remains Active
Both he and his wife, Evelyn, have been 4-H leaders and have been active in Farmers Union.

Mrs. Herman is presently district Farmers Union chairman and is active in Wilber's St. Wenceslaus Church.

Four NU regent's scholarships, incidentally, have gone to the five Herman children. Two sons are now pilots, Paul based in San Jose, Calif., with United Airlines and Lt. Cmdr. Don with the Navy. Both are married, as is daughter Mrs. Jim Angeleyk of New Orleans.

Susan, a former Nebraska Czech Queen, is an NU junior. Bob, who just received an alternate appointment to the US Naval Academy, is a Wilber-Clatonia high school senior.

"With five kids and our involvement in Co-op work, the farm has always been like Grand Central Station," said Herman. "There's seldom a week that we don't have at least one out-of-state visitor."

Change In Price Report Is Considered By USDA

A recommendation being considered by the United States Department of Agriculture that would make major changes in the reporting of market prices of shell eggs has stirred up a controversy, according to Dr. Earl W. Gleaves, extension poultryman at the University of Nebraska.

In general, the recommended changes are:

1. That the reporting of wholesale egg prices and market conditions in Chicago and New York be discontinued.
2. To discontinue all other daily carton egg price reports and only release information on Monday covering the previous week's egg marketing activity.

The present situation has its roots in a study and series of recommendations made by an industry-wide price study group. This was followed by a recent decision by the New York and Chicago Mercantile Exchanges to drop daily egg trading. Recent differences between USDA market reports and some commercially-reported prices appear to have further aggravated the situation.

Supporters of the discontinuation of the market reports have suggested that reports of retail prices issued once a week would be a more accurate means of indicating the price of eggs in a given area. They feel that elimination of daily market quotations will reduce the fluctuation in egg prices, Gleaves said.

Those in favor of the change contend that producers who have long-term contracts or who produce on a scale large enough that they sell directly to large retail accounts have no need for daily quotations. Their sales and prices are negotiated on supply projections.

These proposed changes have met with strong opposition from independent producers and egg buyers. Their feeling is that such developments would primarily affect the independent producer and egg buyer, leaving them with little or no basis for comparison.

They contend that doing away with the daily market reports would bring a false sense of stability to egg prices. Weekly reports would make the market appear to have more stability. However, daily fluctuations will still be occurring because retailers do not all set their prices on the same day. The fact that they were not reported would not solve the problem.

A major fear of those opposed to the change is that the effects may be more far-reaching than expected. This move could bring pressure to reduce the amount of price reporting done in other commodities such as turkeys, livestock, fruits or vegetables.

Farmer Injured As Crop Dusting Plane Crashes

Kearney (AP) — A farmer was injured near here Thursday when the crop dusting plane he was piloting crashed into a field.

The pilot was Richard R. Worm of Route 2, Gibbon. Federal Aviation Administration officials were on the scene to certify him for a license.

The plane, its tanks filled with water, had just taken off from Worm's landing strip when a wing dipped into the field, causing the plane to flip over.

The accident occurred at the Worm farm about 10 miles southeast of Kearney.

The 30-year-old Worm was taken to a Kearney hospital where his condition was described as fair. Observers said he managed to free himself from the wreckage. The plane was demolished.

Minard Jury Listens To Testimony Of Chemist

Omaha (AP) — A government chemist testified Thursday that dynamite particles in the clothing of David L. Rice and Edward Poindexter were the same type as the dynamite found at the vacant house where Omaha Patrolman Larry Minard was killed in an explosion last Aug. 17.

Kenneth Snow of the Washington D.C., laboratory of the U.S. treasury Department's Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division, testified for the prosecution in the first degree murder trial of Rice and Poindexter.

Snow also said that metal particles found in the cutting edges of a pair of pliers taken from Rice's home were the "same type of wire as a piece found at the scene of the bombing."

Under cross examination, Snow said "yes, sir" when asked by Public Defender Frank B. Morrison if the type of dynamite involved was common.

Cross-examination of Snow by David Herzog, Rice's lawyer, is scheduled Friday morning.

Special Prosecutor Arthur O'Leary said the prosecution planned to call two more witnesses before resting its case.

Another prosecution witness, an Omaha city detective, said police found three rifles and "a sizeable amount of ammunition"—in addition to dynamite, blasting caps and a pistol mentioned in earlier testimony — during an Aug. 22 raid at Rice's home.

Det. Sgt. Robert Pfeiffer was one of five police witnesses called to testify Thursday as the prosecution continued laying a foundation for the introduction of scientific evidence in the Aug. 17 bombing of Patrolman Larry D. Minard.

Rice and Edward Poindexter are being tried in District Court on a first-degree murder charge in connection with Minard's death.

Special Prosecutor Arthur D. O'Leary said at midday Thursday the state planned to call five more witnesses, bringing its total to 32 in the case before Judge Donald J. Hamilton and a jury of nine women and three men.

Rice's lawyer, David Herzog, had no comment on whether his client, the deputy minister of information for the Omaha chapter of the National Committee to Combat Fascism, will testify when the defense begins its case, probably on Monday.

Asst. Public Defender Thomas Kenney, one of Poindexter's attorneys, said no decision has been made on whether Poindexter will testify.

Fire Strikes Two Firms In Osceola

Osceola, Neb. (AP) — Fire struck two businesses on the east side of the courthouse in downtown Osceola Thursday and caused extensive smoke damage to a third.

The blaze began in the TV and Appliance Center, then spread to the adjoining East Side Tavern, despite the efforts of firemen to contain the flames.

Volunteer firemen from the neighboring towns of Stromsburg and Shelby fought the blaze. Also, a snorkel truck from Columbus was dispatched to Osceola to help in the fight.

The Muse Theater, located on the other side of the appliance store, reportedly sustained heavy damage from dark clouds of billowing smoke.

Intense flames fanned by strong winds hampered efforts of firemen to fight the blaze.

Three families residing in the apartments were evacuated safely.

Volunteer firemen from Stromsburg, Clarks, Columbus, York and Shelby battled the fire.

Grassland Fire Index 'Extreme' Over The State

Forecasters listed the grassland fire index in the extreme category over much of Nebraska Thursday as low humidities continued and winds up to 30 miles an hour blew over the area.

A cold front accompanied by dry air was moving eastward across the state and little if any precipitation was expected.

The outlook was for considerably lighter winds and cooler temperatures in the east and central Friday.

Brush fires erupted at several places Wednesday. One of the series of fires caused temporary closing of Interstate 80 Wednesday night between 42nd and 72nd Streets in Omaha. Firemen fought the flames for about an hour as traffic backed up more than two miles.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

President Nixon, in his address to the nation Wednesday night, provided no really new insights into the nation's troubled position in Vietnam. The President is obviously convinced that his position is one shared by a majority of the American people and we are inclined to believe he is right.

There is no question, however, that Vietnam grows daily in unpopularity and how long a majority might back the President is hard to say. The President announced a slight increase in troop withdrawal rates from Asia and stuck to his Vietnamization.

Thus, the situation would seem little different at this point in time than it has been since Nixon assumed office and began his program of unwinding the war. He remains convinced that he can so reduce the American position in Vietnam as to make that war of little consequence to him in the 1972 elections.

We believe he is right, not because anyone likes the Vietnam war, but because it still is seen as an essential element of our national policy. Nixon, in opening remarks, again pointed to the administrations of the late John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson as originators of the war.

This, however, is no longer of much meaning. After three years in office, the President cannot put the responsibility for Vietnam upon past administrations. If they were wrong, he could by now have ended the fighting, in one way or another.

To the contrary, he has elected to continue our involvement there and to pursue the interests that this nation has felt it had in a free South Vietnam. By doing this, Nixon has validated, with his administration, the actions of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Thus, he will never win anything politically by trying to absolve his administration of Vietnam responsibility. He has long crossed the line of his own responsibility and the American people will now hold him accountable for Vietnam, not somebody in past history.

While the President may still have a majority of the American people behind him, there is no question that the pattern of Vietnam will never be repeated. This nation will not for a long time, if ever, again become involved in this kind of a limited war.

That may be good or bad, depending upon your own attitudes but it is a fact with which we must deal. What it then poses is the question of what we might do if our interests are ever again threatened as they were in Vietnam.

If you rule out a Vietnam type of operation, you have two things left — no fighting at all or all-out war. If the communist world decides to take aim at another free or neutral nation somewhere around the world, what would be the consequences?

It is impossible to foretell the future simply because there is no way of knowing the circumstances of events that might conceivably develop. A theoretical dilemma could easily present itself in the Middle East but it could come in so many different ways that to attempt to solve it in advance would be impossible.

Still, there is the gnawing uncertainty of what the nation would do if it were again threatened by the kind of insidious aggression that took place in Vietnam. Would we let the threatened nation fall to communism and wait until the stakes involved were more than could be ignored?

The American people may still subscribe to at least a partial victory of some kind in Vietnam and this is certainly the objective of the President. But if such a sentiment prevails, it cannot be applied to any other place in the world.

We are in Vietnam and have made a substantial sacrifice for it already but it has still been a cancer in the American society and public reaction against any such adventure elsewhere would be swift and overwhelmingly negative. It does not seem unrealistic to think that communism has contemplated this situation well and considered what it might do to exploit it.

More than any change in Vietnam, what the nation faces is a new approach in foreign policy, one Nixon claims to have but one that has not yet been proven in the face of any challenge. Certainly, there is no fear of the future's being dull, even if that might be welcome on the international scene.

Newspapers Big Business; Politicians, Press Old Foes

WASHINGTON — What is the tenth largest industry in the United States? Most Americans can be forgiven if they don't immediately answer that it is the newspaper business. Despite the growth of television and the effects of the recession on advertising revenues, McLuhanesque reports of the impending demise of newspapers are greatly exaggerated.

The Department of Commerce has surveyed the industry and found that it did pretty well in 1970—and appears likely to do better this year. "The newspaper publishing industry will continue its moderate but steady growth in 1971," the agency's industrial outlook report stated. "With anticipated increases in circulation and advertising revenues, the industry is expected to grow at an average rate of 4% each year during the 1970-75 period with the value of receipts approaching approximately $8.5 billion in 1975."

The short-term outlook, however, is less bright. A New York Times survey discloses that hundreds of people in editorial, advertising and mechanical jobs on newspapers and magazines have been squeezed out during the last year. Loss of advertising revenues, plus rising costs, are blamed.

These problems occur at a time when the press is under attack from both the left and right. Says Roger Tatarian, editor of United Press International: "We are clearly in a period when 'news media' to many Americans is a dirty word, and when any conflict of views between press and government automatically elicits an endorsement of the official view."

Politicians' complaints about the press are as old as the Republic. A partisan press questioned George Washington's integrity. Thomas Jefferson thought a few libel suits "would have a wholesome effect in restoring the integrity of the press." What makes the current situation different is that sizeable numbers of Americans apparently side with the critics. "Almost anybody in or out of government these days, no matter how weak his leadership, can create a temporary impression that he is a veritable St. George by denouncing the press for crimes that are either fancied or real," writes John Hohenberg, a journalism professor.

While soul-searching continues over the role of the press in modern society, distribution of the newspaper is shaping up as a major problem. It now accounts for about 8-10 per cent of the industry's operating expenses, according to Business Week. Growing traffic congestion is slowing up deliveries.

The solution may well lie in technological changes in the methods of covering and presenting the news. Cable television may allow viewers to see their local and national governments in action. The day may arrive when the reader will scan his newspaper on the TV screen and select the stories he wishes to read more closely. These could be transmitted to the home or office by facsimile.

"What will emerge is a more carefully selected daily package that concentrates on unique products unavailable elsewhere," says Ben H. Bagdikian, national editor of the Washington Post.

Table-Tennis Diplomacy

It will look funny in the history books, but at least it's a start. "Accommodation between the United States and the Peoples Republic of China," a future text might read, "began in earnest in the spring of 1971 when a team of American ping-pong players were invited to Peking for a series of exhibition games."

American contestants in the 31st world table tennis tournament, held during the past few days in Nagoya, Japan, were invited to the capital of mainland China by the secretary general of the Chinese table tennis delegation, Sung Chung. The invitation was eagerly accepted. The 16-man team's visit to Communist China will be the first by an officially sanctioned, organized American group since Mao Tse-Tung established the communist regime in 1949.

Of course, the State Department is undoubtedly aware that Red China walked off with the men's team, mixed doubles, women's doubles and women's singles championships in the recent Nagoya tournament, while the Americans were eliminated early. This could be taken as an intent by the Chinese players to embarrass the Americans in competition to prove to their people that Uncle Sam really is a paper tiger. You can never be too sure.

But on the serious side, a tiny crack in the Maoist veneer should be noted. Although the potential for danger that lies in a hostile China cannot be ignored, the Nixon administration has set its sights on bettering relations between the two countries.

President Nixon lifted the long-standing ban on travel to Communist China last December. In Washington, State Department officials were reportedly pleased with the Wednesday invitation, which can be seen as a calculated Chinese response to the President's earlier gesture.

In the larger sense, it would be mad to think that a piddling thing such as a ping-pong tournament will alter the course of international affairs. But if a switch from gun-boat diplomacy to table-tennis diplomacy will help relax the strain, so much the better.

Hundred Years For Gibbon

Gibbon, Nebraska, certainly is not known throughout the world but this is a loss to the world that Gibbon can't do much about. Located near the Interstate in Central Nebraska, Gibbon and its 1,398 people have celebrated this week the town's centennial.

It is a 100-year-old community but it is the future that Gibbon looks to. Attesting to this is the fact that the community unveiled this Wednesday a number of new community facilities, made possible only by the dedicated efforts of its citizens.

Facilities include a new housing project, new wayside park, new fire station and city hall and the city's first airport. Obviously, Gibbon does not intend to rest on the laurels of its 100 years past.

What Gibbon tells us is that there is a tremendous future for all of Nebraska, including a great many of its smaller communities.

These communities are the kind of places that offer the entire nation an answer to the problems that are found in the major metropolitan centers.

Crime is not a problem in Gibbon, nor is transportation, clean air and plenty of good water. In Gibbon, as throughout Nebraska, there is a proud heritage in the past confidence in the future.

There is at the present a rewarding way of life there and a welcome to any who might be interested in sharing that way of life with the people of the area. It is encouraging to see such cities as this taking the action they have to improve themselves and to lay the foundation for tomorrow. We fully expect that the next 100 years for Gibbon will be just as rewarding as have been the many years since the area was first settled as a pioneering outpost.

Carl Albert Works Hard At Democratic Unity; Firm Believer In Frequent News Conferences

WASHINGTON — Speaker Carl Albert is a man with his own timetable. Albert, who will be 63 next month, told an interviewer when he was elected speaker in January that he would not serve beyond the age of 70. A dedicated Democrat, he does not intend to spend six of his eight years as speaker tilting with Richard Nixon. He wants his party to win the 1972 election.

In the three months since taking over as speaker, this shrewd, cautious, unpretentious but determined man has set about giving House Democrats an up-to-date style of leadership. He has held news conferences to discuss substantive issues — a practice which his predecessors shunned.

He has striven energetically to keep the faction-prone House Democrats from tearing one another apart and to maintain an aggressive, united stance toward the administration. If the Democrats are to unhorse Richard Nixon next year, Carl Albert and the record which the House Democrats achieve under his management are important secondary forces in the struggle.

The speaker of the House is often described as the second most powerful man in the government, but most of the power disappeared in 1910 when an earlier generation of liberals clipped the authority of "Uncle Joe" Cannon to appoint committee chairmen and to schedule the flow of legislation to the floor. Since that time, speakers have had to make do with the next best thing to power, which is influence.

The successful exercise of influence involves obtaining reliable, timely information on what members are thinking, having friends and contacts in every faction, and being skillful in persuasion, cajolery, and pressure. To exercise what the public thinks of as leadership — and make it stick — depends upon performing off-stage an endless mediating or brokerage function. Albert is probably as good as the best of his predecessors in this kind of work.

To create a public impression of coherence and constructive activity, Albert has held a series of joint news conferences with the relevant committee chairmen announcing the introduction of legislation including the constitutional amendment for the 18-year-old vote, renewal of presidential authority to impose wage and price controls, public service jobs for the unemployed, consumer protection, and a $2 minimum wage.

It is no accident that most of these news conferences have been devoted to economic issues. With regard to foreign affairs, Albert is a traditionalist. He believes in bipartisanship and in deferring to presidential leadership when it comes to the making of war and peace. In his private thoughts, he is probably as weary of Vietnam as almost everyone else, but he is more mindful of the fact that he presides over a party which runs the full gamut from bellicose hawks to frantically impatient doves. As a result, working through intermediaries in advance of last week's Democratic caucus, he steered the way for adoption of a compromise resolution on Vietnam which exactly pleased no one — except the speaker.

Regardless of how Vietnam develops over the next 20 months, Albert is convinced that domestic economic issues are his party's best bet for winning the next election. Even in this area, he has his problems in trying to devise a common front of House committee chairmen. He is rather like a medieval king of France treating with powerful feudal noblemen. He is only first among his equals, and Wilbur

Restoring Image

Lincoln, Neb.

It is quite disheartening to witness the wave of demands for the commutation of Lt. Calley's sentence. The chorus of unthinking applause for him and his deeds may well give the outside world the impression that the American people are firmly committed to the summary execution of prisoners and to the wholesale, indiscriminate murder of unarmed civilians. If this is to be the position we adopt — that it is right and proper to exterminate any real or suspected "enemy," even when he or she is unarmed and helpless — in the name of what principles do we appeal to the rest of the world to sympathize with the plight of our prisoners in North Vietnamese hands? And what will happen to American POW's in future wars. Are they to be shot on the spot as "enemies?"

But even more is at stake than the future treatment of American prisoners — the good name of our armed forces is involved. No matter what happens in Vietnam, we are going to need a powerful defense establishment for many years to come. That establishment, and particularly the Army, badly needs to restore its image in order that it may once again appeal to the overwhelming majority of American young people, and not just to those who are willing to accept the prospect of committing or witnessing atrocities. The officers who served on the Calley jury had this imperative firmly in mind.

Those of us who served in World War II may recall a time when the American soldier projected a different image — that of a compassionate defender of the oppressed. To seek to destroy and bury forever this tradition of humane and compassionate behavior under stress is to do real violence to the glorious heritage of our armed forces.

New Field House

Hastings, Neb.

It seems rather shocking that one man can possess such power in our state that he can walk into the Unicameral and ask for a new field house and with surprising ease receive the support of 41 of our 44 senators in the Unicameral.

What I refer to is Mr. Devaney's request for an increase on the cigarette tax for a new field house on the University of Nebraska campus. What is probably most abrasive is the fact that the money for this field house will be raised by an increase in the cigarette tax. Being on who does smoke, it seems very unjust that the money from taxes on the cigarettes smoked in this state should go toward the building of a new field house when there are many areas of need in the state that could use the money to solve the problems that affect the lives of the less fortunate here.

Senator Proud and Senator Carstensen seem to be two of the three senators in the Unicameral who do have a great awareness of the real issues in our Nebraska society.

Since this bill has received such great support in the Unicameral, it will probably pass with little difficulty. Possibly the athletic department can give special rates to all smokers at the sporting events held in the new field house. If this isn't possible, then maybe there can be a wing for cancer research in the new field house.

Remember: A pack a day will get the Big Red field house on the way.

Sudden Interest

Blair, Neb.

Wonder of wonders! Senator Curtis has discovered after 32 years in Congress that the "farmer is in trouble," that the farmer is "greatly misunderstood by urbanites," and that the farmer isn't getting his deserved share of the American dollar these days.

Quite a few thousand of us back here in the heartlands, some of us even urbanites, have suspected or known about this for years. Senator Curtis, now 68, soon to be 69, hopeful of being re-elected to our Senate for six years more, is not at this late date without a solution.

Senator Curtis would appeal to the leaders of industry (steel, rubber, food and farm machinery and OIL, but why not?) for help for the downtrodden farmer — moral support, that is! One wonders how come he doesn't look closer to home — to his own party, to Secretary Hardin — yes, to his good friend, Senator Hruska, maybe even to himself. How often have any of these felt for or acted for the farmer except at election time!

DEWEY NEMETZ

The 'Waste'

Lincoln, Neb.

The trial of Lt. Calley has brought before the nation the fact that it has been the unwritten policy of the U.S. to "waste" the civilian peasants of South Vietnam — by indiscriminate bombing, by poisoning of crops, no less than by shooting them down in ditches.

The military calls this policy "depriving the enemy of the rural population" — as if the Vietnamese farmers' lives were just so much rice, bullets, or other wartime commodity.

Everyone who has had a hand in creating this policy, from Presidents Johnson and Nixon to the taxpayers who have silently paid the bill, helped to bring about what happened at My Lai. Lt. Calley should not be the only person to go to prison.

M. A. JOSEPH

Conglomerate

Lincoln, Neb.

This is in response to a letter from Ellen Bowman, in which she stated that she couldn't see how Lt. Calley could convince himself that women or little children were the enemy. She obviously isn't too aware of what the war over there is like.

I'm a veteran of the war and spent 18 months in Vietnam as a foot soldier. We were told and taught to shoot anything that moved while on a mission and those who didn't take this advice in many cases didn't come back. One has to understand that in this war, the enemy doesn't distinguish himself by wearing a uniform to make it convenient.

I saw a young girl run toward a group of soldiers standing at the edge of a hamlet and blow herself up with two hand grenades, taking two of the soldiers with her. I heard, during the time I was there, of a soldier moving a little baby boy out of the way in the middle of the road, only to be blown up because the baby was booby-trapped.

and hearing of incidents like this, one looks at everyone who isn't in an American uniform as the enemy. In this war, there are no borders or any uniforms, or any simple way of telling whom you should shoot or when.

We all had one intense desire and that was to return home alive. In order to accomplish this, I'm certain we all were guilty of some infractions. I'm not saying that murder is right, but war is murder. How in good conscience can you train a man to murder and then bring him home and convict him of what he was trained to do?

I am glad that because of this incident, people are now aware of what war is like. War is a conglomerate of My Lai's. It's not nice, but no war is. As long as there is war, there will be My Lai's, but let's not single out one man and convict him of what an entire civilization is guilty of creating.

Voting Right

Lincoln, Neb.

The right to vote in city elections should extend to anyone who owns property in that city (thereby paying taxes to it) and anyone living under the jurisdiction of that city, such as those of us who live in the three-mile limit here in Lincoln.

The old argument is that the people outside the city don't pay city taxes, but these people also don't have the city services such as water, sewer, gas, etc., and pay as much or more, in many cases providing their own utilities.

It's time the city of Lincoln woke up to the fact that it is denying the constitutional rights of these citizens who also support and serve the city, and are most certainly governed by it, and yet are denied the right to have a voice in the city elections.

I wouldn't have sat at home on Tuesday like the majority of Lincoln voters apparently did, as I really —

The Answer

Lincoln, Neb.

The successes of the people portrayed in the Star feature, "They Had A Dream," do not indicate that they came from families with a guaranteed income of $6,500 a year, or that they had been provided housing in deluxe housing areas, or that they were recipients of major welfare projects.

When people of all races are motivated by Christ, they will live together in peace and racial equality. When people are brothers in Christ, racial barriers will disappear and each will become his brother's brother.

General Douglas MacArthur said in 1945 that if we did not send Bibles to the Orient, then we would be sending bombs later, and history has confirmed this fact all too well.

Personally, we have Oriental and Negro brothers-in-Christ whose visits we anticipate with all the enthusiasm of blood brothers. Sam Dalton and Chang Ho Lee are two of these brothers and I am sure high school students who were privileged to hear these men in assemblies would verify this. Christ is the answer to the problems of today.

An article in the April 6 Star asked the question of how the marks on the pavement were made.

These marks were made by putting the car into reverse and backing up, going about 30 m.p.h. and dropping it into first gear and then popping the clutch and punching it.

Matzke To Head Department Of Economic Development

Stanley A. Matzke Jr. of Lincoln Thursday was named by Gov. J. James Exon to serve as director of the Department of Economic Development.

His appointment, effective next month, was announced by the governor "with particular pride."

Matzke, 37, son and namesake of the late state senator from Milford, is currently assistant director of resident instruction at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Always Exon's first choice for economic development director, Matzke first had to await the recommendation of the department's citizens committee before he could legally gain gubernatorial appointment.

Exon said he now had that recommendation.

"I am particularly pleased to see a man who comes from a family with a tradition of public and civic service" assume the leadership in Nebraska's effort to attract and expand industry, the governor said.

Matzke was the first superintendent of NU's School of Technical Agriculture at Curtis and has served as an instructor and department head at the Nebraska Vocational Technical School at Milford.

In 1970, he was the

Easter Seal Given Check

By United Press International
A check for $8,111 was presented by Gov. J. J. Exon Thursday to the Nebraska Easter Seal Society to help finance Camp Easter Seal, now under construction in Seward County.

The check represented the profits from Exon's inaugural ball last Jan. 7 and was presented by the governor at a news conference to 9-year-old Mary Garvin of Nelson, this year's Nebraska Easter Seal poster girl.

"I am extremely delighted to present this check on behalf of the Inaugural Ball Committee. I can not think of a more worthy cause," said Exon as he planted a kiss on the cheek of young Mary.

The camp, expected to be completed by 1973, is located on an 80-acre tract of land situated on a 56-acre lake. The land for the camp is being leased from the Salt Valley Watershed District.

STANLEY A. MATZKE JR.

Democratic nominee for secretary of state.

Exon said Nebraska will continue to seek new industry under his administration, but it "will not overlook the fact that economic growth comes fastest from the expansion of industries already in the state."

In answer to a question, Matzke said he is prepared to accept the responsibility of tourist promotion if the Legislature decides to transfer tourism from the State Game and Parks Commission to the Department of Economic Development.

Matzke said he will assume his new duties on May 1 or May 15, depending on arrangements yet to be made with his university employer.

Exon said Matzke will be salaried at $16,000 a year.

Matzke will succeed James Monroe, who resigned upon the change of state administrations last January. The department has been functioning with an acting director since that time.

Withdrawal Of Zoning Change Plan Is Sought

... FOR 70TH AND SUMNER

Developer Joe Hampton said Thursday he has requested his application for a zoning change at 70th and Sumner be withdrawn.

Hampton said he wants to wait on his request until after the planning department has given consideration to the creation of a new zoning classification more appropriate for his intended land use.

A change from single family to F Restricted Commercial had been sought. The matter is now before the Planning Commission.

Not In Best Interest

"My application for F Restricted zoning, which is the only existing zoning classification which is at all appropriate, would permit uses which are neither intended in the development I propose nor in the best interests of the suburban area in which I am also a substantial landowner," Hampton said in his letter to the City Council and Planning Commission asking the application to be withdrawn.

Hampton had proposed building a professional offices complex on the land.

The Planning Commission, which has been able to muster only four votes for the zoning, has requested Planning Director Doug Brogden to come up with a zoning classification more restrictive than the F Restricted Commercial under which proposed uses like that of Hampton's would fit.

In the meantime, City Councilman Bill Davidson, who has publicly announced his opposition to the proposed rezoning, has asked that the application be presented to the present council before its term expires May 17.

Aesthetic Impact

Hampton said the question of greatest importance for everyone interested in the rezoning is the aesthetic impact of future development in the area.

"I am hopeful that a new and appropriate zoning classification will focus attention on this question and, after consideration by all interested groups, provide a satisfactory conclusion for all concerned," he said.

He added that he did not feel that a decision at this time on his application, either favorable or unfavorable, would be in the long range best interests of the area.

Carrier Boys Start Trip To Portugal, Spain

Two Lincoln newspaper carriers departed Thursday morning from Lincoln's Municipal Airport enroute to New York where they will join 128 other top newspaper carriers from throughout the United States for an 11-day tour of Portugal and Spain.

Lee Lukehart, a Lincoln carrier for the Lincoln Journal and Tim Haist, a Hastings carrier for The Lincoln Star, earned the trip by winning the Sunday Journal and Star-Parade newspaper carrier excellence contest.

Lee, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lukehart of 810 Starview Lane and a ninth grade student at Salt Valley View Junior High School southwest of Lincoln.

Tim, 14, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Haist of Hastings and is a ninth grader at Hastings Junior High.

Tim, whose hobby is coin collecting, expressed enthusiasm at the opportunity to visit the two European countries and to supplement his collection with Portuguese and Spanish coins.

He said that in anticipation of the trip he has been brushing up on his Spanish in school.

Lee, also expressing enthusiasm toward the trip abroad, said that he is also looking forward to collecting foreign coins and stamps during the European trip.

In Portugal, the 130 newspaper carriers will attend such events as a fishing contest, fish fry, tours of picturesque Portuguese villages, a bullfight and receptions held in their honor hosted by U.S. Ambassador Ridgeway Knight and Lisbon Mayor Fernando Augusto Santos e Castro. Following the Portugal visit, the carriers will travel to Madrid, Spain, where they will spend five event-filled days.

Regents File Answer To Rozman's Suit

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents told a federal district court Thursday Stephen Rozman was not rehired to teach at NU next year because other persons "are better qualified to perform the services desired."

The regents said their decision not to hire the assistant political science professor was made in good faith.

The regents made their statement in an answer to a lawsuit filed by Rozman which asks reinstatement to the faculty and $100,000 in damages.

The decision to drop Rozman followed a series of investigations and reports about Rozman's involvement in anti-war disturbances on the Lincoln campus last May, including an overnight occupation of the ROTC building May 4.

In their answer to Rozman's suit, the regents said the best interests of the citizens of Nebraska will be served by seeking a person "who is less willing to disrupt the university activities in order to accomplish a political aim having no relevance to university operations, and who will be more cooperative with the university administration in meeting and controlling explosive and threatening situations . . . and who will be more objective in his approach and less arrogant . . ."

Two sets of answers to Rozman's contentions were filed, one from the regents as a board and the other from individual regents. Both answers were essentially the same.

The regents ask that Rozman's suit be dismissed, contending he has a remedy for breach of contract under state law and that he failed to use the administrative remedies available at NU.

During the overnight occupation of the ROTC building, said the regents, Rozman was "well aware" NU administrators could bind the school to a political statement backed by Rozman and others in the building.

At Least $3,255 Reported Bilked From Local Bank

A local bank has reported to Lincoln police that a man has bilked them out of at least $3,255 with a series of deposits and withdrawals on an account he opened in mid February.

Bank officials reported that the man initially opened an account with a deposit of some $400 and has since deposited nearly $75,000 in bad checks.

According to police, the officials said that their loss is presently about $3,255 but could possibly be more.

Police believe the man is now in Illinois.

Answers to questions that have been asked about Lincoln Memorial Park's GARDEN MAUSOLEUM

Why a Garden Mausoleum?
Many families in the Lincoln area have expressed a preference for the peace of mind that comes from knowing their departed loved ones will rest securely in the permanent protection of clean, dry chambers, or crypts, as if sleeping in the confines of an immaculately kept room. For that reason, Lincoln Memorial Park has expanded its facilities to provide the most beautiful mausoleum complex in the Middle West.

Is mausoleum entombment more expensive?
Considering the savings involved in not having to buy a cemetery lot, an interment vault, or monuments, plus paying for other expenses such as preparation of graves, the cost of mausoleum entombment compares favorably to that of ground burial—particularly now, while pre-construction discounts are available.

Can I exchange property I own at Lincoln Memorial Park for mausoleum crypts?
Yes. Where present property owners wish to exchange their lots and bronze memorials for mausoleum crypts, arrangements can be made for an equitable exchange. Many families have been taking advantage of this opportunity.

May a loved one interred elsewhere be moved to the mausoleum?
Yes. It's being done, both by families whose departed loved ones have been interred at Lincoln Memorial Park and at other cemeteries.

Is provision made for perpetual care?
Yes. Perpetual Care Funds at Lincoln Memorial Park are being expanded to provide for maintenance of the Garden Mausoleum forever.

Why make plans now?
By reserving space for your family in our Garden Mausoleum now, you can select from choice locations—take advantage of special pre-construction discounts—and, be spared the mental anguish and expense of this inevitable obligation at time of need. Monthly terms available at no interest.

Crime Unit OKs One Part Of Three Part Plan

By LADD HERSHNER
Star Staff Writer

The Region II Crime Commission Thursday approved one part of a three part program calling for training films and seminars for the Municipal Court's volunteer probation counselor program.

The commission approved and will now submit to the State Crime Commission an application for funds to buy seven training films to aid in educating the court's volunteer counselors.

The other two parts of the program will be recommended to the State Crime Commission for funds through state channels rather than through the Region II commission because these parts of the program will benefit the entire state and not just Lancaster County.

These two parts call for the implementation of a documentary film to aid in educating Nebraska citizens in what the counselors do and forming seminars and workshops through the use of educational television.

The commission also approved a $500 grant for sending a police photographer to a training school. The local share in the cost for sending him to the school will be about $325, with federal funds paying the rest.

A $7,680 grant was also approved to fund a summer camp for disadvantaged youngsters at Camp Kitaki from July 4 until July 10.

This camp would be operated through the Lancaster County Welfare Department and would allow 120 youngsters to attend camp.

The federal share of this grant would be $5,592 and the local $2,087.

The only stumbling block facing these Region II commission approvals is a recent announcement that the State Crime Commission will not review any more grant applications until their comprehensive plan for 1971 is approved by the federal commission, which could be three months away.

The Region II Crime Commission members also announced that they have been instructed to reorganize their commission.

A recent amendment to the Safe Streets Act requires that regional groups be comprised of representatives from all segments of the criminal justice system supported by units of local government within that region and by representatives of local governing bodies.

These representatives would include courts, county sheriffs, city police, prosecutors, city councils, county boards and public defenders.

The local commission presently is represented by all but the courts, prosecutors and public defenders.

In other action, the commission postponed until next month any action on an application by the Lincoln Recreation Department requesting funds to implement an 11-week roller skating program this summer.

The commission members voiced opposition to the large amount of money requested ($58,000) for such a short term program and also thought that the program might be better if it included more recreational outlets than just roller skating.

Police Wound Man Attempting To Escape Jail

Bridgeport, Conn. (UPI) — John R. Pardue, 29, on trial for allegedly robbing a bank and bombing a police station, was shot and seriously wounded Thursday when he tried to break out of the federal building with a sawed-off shotgun.

His pretty mini-skirted wife, Nancy, 25, who police said smuggled him the gun, was seized as she waited in a nearby parked car with her year-old baby. Police said they found packed suitcases, weapons and cash in the car.

Protest Gathers After Peace Talk

Madison, Wis. (UPI) — About 200 protesters smashed windows in 15 buildings near the University of Wisconsin campus Wednesday night after a speech by Chicago Seven member David Dellinger criticized violence.

Dellinger said violence should not be practiced because it alienates persons from peace work and "tends to harass the system without bringing it down."

$50,000 Suit Is Filed Against Youths, Parents

Jack E. Herstein has filed a $50,000 suit in Lancaster District Court against two youths and their parents in connection with an April 25, 1970, assault.

Named defendants in the action are Michael D. Lowe, Delwin Krohn, William A. and Bertie L. Lowe and Wesley W. and Viola M. Krohn.

The plaintiff alleges that he was assaulted in the Dairy Queen Parking Lot at Corner and Starr by Michael Lowe and Delwin Krohn who allegedly struck him with "violent blows" resulting in his falling to the pavement.

As a result of the assault, the plaintiff alleges he received multiple fractures, abrasions and teeth and face damage.

a tour of the shops is a delightful experience

The specialty shop is the newest innovation in merchandising. In addition to the separate boutiques found around town, the larger fashion stores have opened their own specialty shops.

The dress stores have created individual boutiques for every type of fashion — from the peasant dress to the hot pants, from the formal to intimate apparel.

The many shops-within-the-shops are beneficial not only to the store management, but also to the shopper. The specialty shops have allowed for creativity and new ideas in decor, as well as helping the sales people to aid the shopper in her search for just the right garment.

The boutiques are helpful to the shopper for they provide a more relaxed atmosphere, they are more convenient, and a lady can find what she wants in the right shop — without having to wade through a jumble of other styles!

Every well-dressed woman knows that her intimate apparel has a lot to do with the total effect of her wardrobe.

AT HOVLAND-SWANSON

In Hovland-Swanson's third floor Hi-Styler Shop, there is a winding path that lead us into the department which specializes in intimate apparel.

One of the most interesting facts we learned there was that intimate clothes have become more functional — you can not only sleep in some of the pajamas and robes, but you can also entertain guests in them!

A unique collection of these functional clothes has been introduced by Daphne Davis, who has created mini and maxi nightshirts, T-shirts, long gowns, and long pajamas that are opaque nylon tricot with some of the smartest appliques we have found in a long time.

The collection comes in bright yellow, dark purple, and lime green — and even has matching jockey bikinis. The glyphs — or appliques — include Om, the symbol of infinity, awareness, and inner peace; Earth, the symbol of natural harmony; Leo, the symbol of resistance and the Omega; and Daphne, the sign of the Greek nymph being turned into a laurel tree. Other appliques include stars, bananas, strawberries, and many more.

Peasant dresses for at-home or out-on-the town are plentiful in the intimate apparel boutique and they feature skirts with ruffles of a variety of colors and prints. An new idea in the peasant look is combined with hot pants; it is a one-piece hot pant or rompers with a print overskirt that falls to the ankles. The ensemble is a must for the hurry-up occasions that we all run into during the informal, activity packed days of spring and summer.

Another of the sleep or entertain outfits is the Nite Owl which features long robes with matching gowns of Ultrasea textured polyester. The bright prints in this line lend a party atmosphere to any gathering, and the robes are so comfortable that they are perfect for lounging around the house.

The boutique also has two-piece bathing suits from Bali, Accentuette, and Lilly de France. The suits have bright prints, and the tops are constructed just like your favorite bra for comfort and the needed support.

For the most intimate of intimate apparel, Hovland-Swanson's has bra and bikini sets in all colors and combinations. One size fits all, thanks to the excellent fabric blend, and the bras are also of excellent make.

By the way, this shop also has begun to cater to the pre-teens, sizes 8 to 14, who are all too often left out when it comes to intimate apparel. Hovland's now carries the most up-to-date and feminine look for preteens, including petti slip and bra sets, and sleepwear and robes. Many of the robes feature the brightly colored peasant look — and others are ultra-feminine, made of white dotted swiss and accented with touches of pink or blue.

AT BEN SIMON'S

A total renovation has taken place on the fourth floor of the downtown store of Ben Simon, where we find eleven separate boutiques. The relaxed and elegant atmosphere on the floor makes shopping a pure joy, rather than a struggle.

We went full circle, beginning in the Raindrop Shoppe, which of course, features all-weather wear for those spring rains and chilly days. Denim, one of the most popular new fabrics, is widely seen in all-weather coats. The cape, both daring and dashing, is seen in light wools, as well as all weather fabrics. Whatever your dress length, the Raindrop Shoppe will be able to accommodate you in midi, maxi and mini coat lengths.

The Boutique area changes weekly, and carries the fashions seen in the windows of the store.

Dresses and sportswear that retail for under $40 are found in the Round The Clock Shoppe. This area features daytime dresses in easy-care fabrics that are great for travelling. Knits and polyesters are serviceable for both work and play, and attractive as well.

For those special occasions, you will want to take a peek in the Signature Shoppe, where dresses begin to sell at $40 on up. These specialty costumes and designer apparel are sure to catch the eye, whether it be a luncheon, dinner or simply an evening out. PHYLIS WOOLLEN

Good morning,

With the coming of Easter one becomes aware of how much religion and music have in common. Each in its singular way celebrates the integral qualities of humanity: faith, love and peace.

Even though Western music had its birth in religious concepts, it gradually steered away from the central theme. As years went by, the rhythm of music grew more complex and somewhat sophisticated, and did not possess the qualities needed for the direct descriptive approach that religion required.

Today a great transition in this area is again taking place. Appreciation of religious music is widening, and modern composers are devoting their energies to music with religious themes. On the other hand, some religious services are acquainting themselves with the variety of folk music. This diffusion is not only interesting but important in the role it plays.

It seems as though religion is making an honest attempt in understanding the values of modern music, and music in its general concept is realizing the rich voice of faith that contributes to the overall celebration.

This weekend during Easter many services will offer a variety of musical selections for the enjoyment of the public. Please join us.

WINNERS FIRST . . . Audition winners of The Lincoln Symphony Orchestra are in all likelihood practicing even more now for their debut with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra on April 20. Winners of the contest are Curtis Kimball, pianist, and Robert Jenkins, oboist. Both young men are juniors at the University of Nebraska. Mr. Kimball has chosen to play Beethoven's Concerto No. 5 (The Emperor), and Mr. Jenkins will be playing Haydn's Concerto for Oboe. This will be the final performance for the Lincoln Symphony for this year. The curtain will rise at 8 o'clock at the Stuart Theatre.

PALETTE PERSONALITY . . . J. Robert Greiner, a native of Lincoln who is now residing in Connecticut, is the artist of the month at the Lincoln Artists Guild showing in the Cengas building. In an age of narrow specialization Mr. Greiner represents a happy amalgam of creativity, producing art works ranging in a broad spectrum from oil paintings, water colors, to pencil drawings and woodcuts. The subjects of his work are mostly still lifes, and country scenes reflecting the New England coastal areas. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, and the winner of several awards, Mr. Greiner also has illustrated numerous children's books. This show at Cengas will continue on through May 4, so be sure to mark a date on your calendar to view some outstanding works by this young artist.

AH! THAT VOICE . . . of Rod McKuen's has mesmerized audiences from coast to coast. Making his second appearance in Lincoln on April 16, the concert artist, composer and writer, will undoubtedly gather more fans who will be charmed by his red sweatshirt and tennis shoes. Heralded as the best selling poet of our era, Rod McKuen will need no singular introduction for his concert on Friday, April 16. Perhaps just an awesome silence would be enough! Tickets are available from Pershing Auditorium.

NOW IS THE TIME . . . to subscribe to the 1971-72 Lincoln Friends of Chamber Music series. A promising schedule includes performances by the Early Music Quartet, the Fine Arts Quartet, Lincoln Chamber Players, the Tokyo String Quartet and the Hungarian Quartet. Requests should be made to Sheldon Art Gallery.

POETS ARE ABUNDANT . . . in the latest issue of the undergraduate literary magazine, "Tin Roof Blues." Carefully and patiently executed under the unusual genius of Murray Martz, the small magazine declares the poetry of 10 outstanding and well known poets from Nebraska. Available at a minimal price the magazine can be found at most of the book stores.

OPERA LOVERS . . . will want to mark their calendars for Friday and Saturday, April 23 and 24, when the Omaha Opera Company will present the whirling waltzes of old Vienna in Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus." Directors, Dr. Leo L. Kopp and James DeBlasis, have staged the young cast of singers, actors and dancers through a nostalgic evening of wine, women and song. Special guest stars will be Eileen Schauler of the Metropolitan Opera; Patricia Wise of the New York City Opera; Erik Townsend of the Seattle Opera Company, and David Hall-Sundquist of the San Francisco Opera. Tickets are available by writing: Mary Tirro, 119 South 35th St., Omaha, Ne (68131), or calling Omaha 346-1103 or 342-6278.

CURTAIN CALL . . . A preview showing of "The Madness of Lady Bright" will be seen this evening at the Lincoln COMMUNITY PLAYHOUSE at 8:30 o'clock. The one-act play will be entered in the regional Neb. Assn. of Community Theaters competition April 23-25 in Waterloo, Ia. . . .

OBJECTS, USA, the Johnson Wax Company revival of the crafts, will be on exhibit at Sheldon Art Gallery beginning on April 14.

ADVANCE NOTICE . . . Mark your calendars for the weekend of May 6 to May 9 for the Dedication Festival in honor of Kimball Recital Hall and the Miskell Memorial Organ on the University of Nebraska campus. Slated for the weekend is almost every form of music.

RENOIR . . . and Picasso prints from the Binet collection are now displayed at the Hastings Art Gallery. Exhibit continues through April 24.

Talk Around The Town

We took a verbal trek around the town this ayem and learned about who is doing what — and when — and why.

The 'why' angle is limited to parties and those parties are courtesies for a very attractive bride-elect, Miss Linda Lou McMahan, whose marriage to Roger Anderson will be solemnized on Saturday, April 24.

The current week has been a busy one for Miss McMahan for whom the festivities began on Tuesday when Mrs. William Smith and Mrs. William Waters were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Smith. The soon-to-be bride was presented with a personal shower.

On the following day — Wednesday — Mrs. Ralph Ireland and Mrs. J. T. Haley

TAFY Is Here!

TAFY (Theatre Arts For Youth) has chosen its new emblem from some 150 entries in the TAFY Poster Contest. Winner of first place (at top) was designed and executed by Gary Brehm, nine years old who attends Brownell School.

Grade school children entered original ideas on posters for the organization's symbol. Judging took place on Thursday afternoon by Mr. Fred Wells of the Lincoln Foundation; Mr. Norman Geske director of the Sheldon Art Gallery and Mr. Keith Jacobshagen, associate professor of art at the University of Nebraska.

Second and third place, respectively, were awarded to the poster (bottom left) by Shelley Sailors, 11 years old, Meadowlane School, and Rebecca Fry, nine years old, of Belmont School.

paid prenuptial courtesy to Miss McMahan when they entertained at a 10:30 o'clock coffee and a pottery shower at the home of Mrs. Ireland.

There won't be too many idle moments for Miss McMahan next week, either — The activity ball will start rolling on Monday when Mrs. Jack Devoe and Mrs. Oscar Humble compliment the bride-elect at the University Club. The guests have been invited for a luncheon and a miscellaneous shower.

There are, of course, more courtesies, and we'll talk about them another day. Our mind. The 'M' stands for moving of which there seems to be considerable.

Today, for example, the moving vans will be parked on Jackson Drive — at 2800, to be specific. That, of course, is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Druliner and their family — or perhaps we should say WAS the Druliner residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Druliner and the younger generation of Druliners now have become residents of The Knolls — and in a brand new house.

And about this time next week 2800 Jackson Dr., will have new occupants — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Myers and their family who now are residing at 4111 Spruce.

The Knolls, although greeting new neighbors, is saying goodbye to one family — Dr. and Mrs. Sam Weinstein, their daughter — Miss Laurie Weinstein, a junior at Southeast High School — and their son, David, who is attending college in Colorado.

Dr. and Mrs. Weinstein are forsaking Lincoln and moving to Farmington, Conn. As a matter of fact Dr. Weinstein already is there. He is a member of the University of Connecticut dental faculty — and the school of dentistry is to be in a newly completed building.

Mrs. Weinstein and her son and daughter will be leaving for Connecticut in May.

An Open House

Sunday, April 11, has a significance other than Easter for the children of Mrs. Eva Furst. Sunday is their mother's 80th birthday anniversary, and by way of celebration Mrs. Furst's six daughters and her son are holding open house between 2:30 and 4 o'clock, on Sunday afternoon at the Temple Baptist Church at 50th and Randolph street.

The six hostesses include Mrs. Hugo Srb (Grace Furst), Mrs. Harold Gottwals (Elaine Furst), Mrs. Henry Frickel (Geneva Furst), all of Lincoln; Mrs. Alan Friedrich (Elva Furst) of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Leonard Glaser (Ida Furst) of Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. Henry Hachmeier (Flor-

Riches Of The Season In Ritual

Members of Hadassah, a Zionist organization of women, planned a Seder table for members of the group. The plate of symbolic food (on right of table) and the glasses of wine are traditional parts of the home festival. Shown left to right are: Mrs. Adam Smith, Mrs. Yale Gotsdiner, Mrs. Robert Shapiro, and Mrs. Don Marti.

The altar of St. Mary's Catholic Church was beautifully decorated with the traditional array of lilies on Maundy Thursday in preparation for the Easter holiday. Lilies recall the beauty and new life of the celebration of the principle Christian holiday of Easter which represents the springtime of the Faith.

BY PHYLLIS WOOLLEN

The spring is a time of rebirth. It is a symbolic time of year — flowers blossom, trees bear leaves, we shed our heavy winter clothing, and take a new lease on life.

The weather of course, is in part responsible for the changes. But, much of the beauty of the new season relates to religion. For both Christians and Jews, this weekend will bring festivities commemorating holidays of joy.

It is a time of celebration. Although the solemnity of the Jewish holiday of Passover and the Christian holiday of Easter, are not to be forgotten, both holidays have come to be a greeting of the season, and an exuberant reunion with the times of our forefathers. We remember the many seasons that have passed, and reflect on our beginnings and the struggles of our ancestors who have observed these same holidays at this same season.

PASSOVER

For the Jewish peoples, Passover, or Pesach as it is called in Hebrew, is the outstanding home festival commemorating Israel's deliverance from Egyptian bondage. The holiday is often referred to as the Feast of Freedom.

During the eight days of Passover, which is an observance of the Exodus, the Jewish home removes all traces of leavened bread or any food containing yeast, for during the time of the Exodus, the people did not have enough time to let their bread rise, and thus ate unleavened bread, or matzo which is like a thin cracker in appearance.

The highlight of the Passover celebration is the Seder service. In preparation for the Seder, the mother of the home usually does her spring cleaning, and brings out the dishes which are used only during this holiday. It is more than a farewell to winter, it is a spiritual preparation.

The Seder service is held in the home on the first two nights of Passover. Traditionally, families gather together for the banquet or feast, which is also an elaborate ritual. The table is decorated with fruits and flowers to denote the festivity of the occasion.

The HAGGADAH is the book that is read during the feast, which unfolds the familiar tale of Egyptian slavery, Pharaoh's obstinate refusal to let the Israelites go, Moses' courageous leadership and the miracle of the redemption.

The Seder table is arranged with various items of food to symbolize the biblical story. A cup of wine beside each place setting symbolizes the four sips called for in the prayers read from the Haggadah. A plate or platter in the center of the table contains other symbols of the season — a hard-boiled egg is a symbol of life — Israel's optimistic affirmation of the sanctity of life. Bitter herbs remind the family of the bitter lot of their ancestors. A mixture of nuts and apples represent the mortar used by the Hebrew slaves; a lamb bone depicts the sacrifice of the lamb, and a piece of parsley celebrates the greening of the earth.

One of the highlights of the home service is when the youngest child at the table asks 'the four questions' to his father or grandfather: "Why is this night different from all other nights of the year: (1) in regard to the eating of unleavened bread, (2) the use of bitter herbs, (3) the ritual of dipping food in salt water, and (4) the custom of leaning at the Seder table?" The leaning at the Seder table signifies a feeling of leisure.

An important part of the tradition is sharing of the blessed joys with the less fortunate. A cup of wine is filled for the prophet Elijah, symbol of the humble wayfarer; the front door is left open for the spirit of the prophet to enter and share in the Seder. It is also customary to invite guests to the family table.

EASTER

For Christians the world over, this Sunday will commemorate the Resurrection of their Saviour, Jesus Christ. This is the principle Christian festival, and Easter has come as a sign to welcome the spring of the year. It is a holiday of joy and celebration.

The biblical story of Easter is well-known among all peoples. A series of feasts and observances precede the actual celebration.

Beginning forty days before Easter, Christians begin the observance of Lent, a time of fast and self-denial and spiritual preparation of the soul through prayer and penance. Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, the seventh Wednesday before Easter. Its name arises from the ceremonial observance of placing ashes on the forehead to remind a Christian of the sorrow they should feel for their sins.

The week preceding Easter is Holy Week, the most solemn time of the year, including Palm Sunday, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, Easter Vigil on Saturday and Easter Sunday.

Palm Sunday recalls the passion of Jesus, beginning with his entry into Jerusalem. As Jesus entered Jerusalem, children and townspeople greeted his arrival by massing in the streets and along the way waving palm leaves.

Maundy or Holy Thursday recalls the partaking of the first Holy Eucharist. Often referred to as the Last Supper, the dinner was the beginning of the Passover for the Jewish peoples. The "washing of feet" relates to the act of the Saviour washing the feet of his twelve disciples, and asking them to follow his example by serving each other.

Both the Passover and Easter are religious representations of a season. As can be seen, both holidays have many similarities. At this solemn and yet joyous time of the year, we are encompassed with the remembrances of the ideals of all life: thanksgiving, freedom, learning and wisdom, sacrifice, and repentance. These holy days dramatize these values and give them substance.

ABBY BRIDGE

it's bidding quiz day

B. Jay Becker

DEAR ABBY: I have been married twice. My first marriage was miserable. My second, wonderful.

My problem is that my mother never throws anything away. She has the wedding gown from my first marriage hanging in the closet of her house. Every time I go over there I see it, and it bugs me. I've told her several times to please give it away, or throw it away. Just get rid of it because it stirs up such unpleasant memories.

She says, "Maybe one day your daughter will want to get married in it."

I said, "Over my dead body." Abby, my daughter is only 10, and besides that gown is 20 years old and yellow. What can I do?

BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: If the gown belongs to you (and it seems to me that it does — even if your mother paid for it), you can remove it from the closet and dispose of it any way you wish. It's difficult to believe that your mother has your best interests at heart, if she knows how you feel and keeps it hanging where you will see it every time you visit.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 7700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90009. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Bidding quiz

You are South, both sides vulnerable, in each of the following three hands. What would you bid at the point where the question mark appears?

1. ♠753 ♥64 ♦Q9762 ♣Q43
East South West North
1 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ 4 NT
Pass 5 ♠ Pass 5 ♠

2. ♠AJ8 ♥AJ6 ♦AJ7 ♣A953
South North
1 ♠ 1 ♠
2 NT 3 ♠

3. ♠74 ♥K9 ♦K72 ♣AKQ876
West North East South
Pass Pass 1 ♠ 2 ♠
Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

1. Six clubs. North's four notrump bid is the equivalent of a very strong takeout double, and you should assume at this point that he is void of spades and has adequate trump support for at least two suits.

When he then bids five spades, it becomes obvious that diamonds is not one of his suits, for otherwise he would either pass five diamonds or bid six of them if his hand were strong enough. It follows that North must want you to choose between the two remaining suits, hearts and clubs, and you should conform to his wishes by bidding six clubs on three to the queen. He may have any one of the following hands to justify his bidding:

♠AKQ83 ♥A5 ♣AKJ972
♠KQJ95 ♥AK4 ♣AKJ85
♠AKQ752 ♥AJ ♣AK986

2. Three diamonds. The presumption is that North is not terribly keen about notrump and prefers to play the hand in either clubs or diamonds. There is no good reason to suppress your diamond support, and you should therefore bid three diamonds. He may have any one of these hands:

♠K3 ♥7 ♦KQ8652 ♣KJ84

in which case the proper contract would be a minor suit slam.

3. Three hearts. Despite partner's previous pass, there is a good chance for game and you should pursue it by bidding three hearts. True, you have only two trumps, but that should not stop you from raising partner — for he is almost sure to have either six hearts or five good ones. North may have one of these hands:

♠J6 ♥QJ8752 ♦AJ4 ♣93
♠K92 ♥AQ7643 ♣85 ♣J4
♠83 ♥AQJ84 ♦A96 ♣532

and you belong in four hearts with each of them.

Commission Told Much Equipment Useless If ETV Building Is Altered

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission was told Thursday that much of the specialized equipment and construction that is going into the new State Telecommunications Building would be rendered useless if the building were used for other than ETV purposes.

"We have under construction one of the finest educational television facilities in the country," said Jerry Gill, vice president of the architectural and engineering firm which has planned the structure.

Gill, of the Omaha firm of Henningson, Durham and Richardson, told the commission the building is about 70% complete.

It is being built on the University of Nebraska's East Campus, north of the Nebraska Center.

Noting that a number of other uses have been suggested for the building, Gill suggested an analysis before any such decisions are made to determine

Organization Will Promote Public TV

A citizens organization designed to promote broader public support for non-commercial television in Nebraska was formally launched Thursday.

The organization, known as Nebraskans for Public Television, Inc., filed articles of incorporation as a non-profit group Thursday morning, the Nebraska Educational Television Commission was told.

The corporation is an outgrowth of a year-old proposal from ETV staff members, who envisioned the committee as a method of supporting public television through volunteer efforts and financial contributions.

ETV General Manager Jack McBride told the commission the new organization will "serve the commission and the network in a number of ways."

He said a drive to attract charter members will be launched soon.

The founding board of directors, which includes business and civic leaders from across the state, includes:

Lincolnton Joyce Ayres, Robert B. Crosby, J. Arthur Danielson, E. J. Faulkner, Mrs. Gladys Forsyth, Bennett S. Martin, Dr. Robert E. Palmer, Tyler Ryan, Norbert T. Tiemann and McBride.

Others are Charles Durham, Marvin C. Schmid and Howard Stalnaker of Omaha, Mrs. Arthur Bowring of Merriman, Dr. Philip Heckman of Crete, Robert Marvin of Beatrice, Dr. C. Edwin Nelson of Chadron, C. Leonard Peterson of Alliance and Mrs. A. B. Sheldon of Lexington.

Full-Scale Probe Of FBI Not What Kleindienst Wants

(C) Washington Star

Washington — The Justice Department has backed down on its invitation for a full-scale congressional investigation of the FBI.

The department spokesman, Powell Moore, said Thursday that Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst "has changed his suggestion" that he would "welcome an investigation by the responsible members of Congress" of "the whole operation of the FBI."

Moore said Kleindienst had intended only to suggest an investigation of specific charges by House Democratic whip Hale Boggs that the FBI had tapped congressmen's telephones and had placed members of Congress under surveillance.

James D. Davis Dies In Vietnam

Washington (AP) — Army Pfc. James D. Davis, 20, of Overton was killed April 1 in Vietnam, the Defense Department has announced.

He was the son of Mrs. Rosella Davis and a 1968 graduate of Overton High School. He was sent overseas in November.

Hijacker Sentenced

Warsaw (UPI) — A Pole who tried to hijack an airliner to Vienna has been sentenced to 25 years in prison, the Communist Party newspaper Trybuna Ludu said. The hijacker, Rudolf Olma, was badly hurt when a homemade explosive he used in the attempt last Aug. 26 exploded aboard the plane. Nine other persons were also injured in the blast. The plane landed in Katowice with the cabin interior on fire.

Rescue Dog Dies

St. Gervais, France (UPI) — Titus, a mountain dog who dug his master out of an avalanche of snow March 5, died from a virus infection. The dog's master, Maniel Gloria, said, "I owe my life to Titus. I will bury him among the mountains where he belongs."

Education Guide On Drug Abuse Meeting Planned

A State Department of Education spokesman said Thursday an advisory committee meeting will be held next week to begin work on a drug abuse education guideline for Nebraska schools.

The advisory committee and the department have been charged with the responsibility for developing a "comprehensive health education" department's consultant in drug education, said the meeting will be the first in a series for the 10-member group.

The guidelines will include curriculum suggestions for courses on the abuse of drugs, alcohol and tobacco as called for in a bill passed by the current session of the Legislature.

Callan Urges Hike In Ticket Prices To Pay For Building NU Fieldhouse

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Former congressman Clair Callan of Odell Thursday suggested that Nebraska football fans help pay for a proposed new University of Nebraska fieldhouse with a $1.50 price increase in tickets to home games.

With a seven-game home season this year, Callan noted, that could raise nearly $700,000 for construction of a fieldhouse. Public tickets are now $6 a game.

Callan said he opposes the proposal to earmark funds from a five-cent a package increase in the state cigarette tax for construction of the fieldhouse and for a new state office building.

"Good legislation would dictate that that money, an estimated $7 million a year, go into the general fund and funding for those projects be handled through the regular appropriations process," Callan said.

"I believe it is time for the Legislature and the administration to start establishing some priorities," the former Democratic congressman noted.

"The major question here is whether it is more important to build this fieldhouse or a state office building or whether we should use these funds to attack the problems of pollution, mental health, alcoholism or even to increase payments to the thousands of old people in this state who depend on welfare."

Old age recipients "under present conditions are receiving woefully inadequate help," Callan said.

"I certainly agree that Nebraska needs a fieldhouse, but increasing football ticket prices would appear to be a more logical way to help pay for it," he said.

As a smoker, Callan said, he has no objection to increasing the cigarette tax to raise additional state funds. "I wouldn't even object if they raised it 10 cents a pack, but the money should go into the general fund."

Exon Open Minded On Fieldhouse

By JAMES JOYCE
United Press International

Gov. J. James Exon said Thursday he is keeping an open mind on whether to approve Lincoln State Sen. Roland Luedtke's bill to increase the cigarette tax to finance a new state office building and a new fieldhouse at the University of Nebraska.

The measure, LB87, won an overwhelming 41-3 firstround approval in the Legislature on Tuesday following a personal appearance before the lawmakers by NU athletic director and head football coach Bob Devaney.

The bill would increase the cigarette tax from eight to 13 cents with the estimated $7 million a year the extra tax is expected to raise being divided equally between the office building and the fieldhouse.

In an interview, Exon said that while he "generally favors" funding the two projects through the special tax he would like to see "more definite" figures on what the fieldhouse will cost.

The office building has an estimated price tag of $15 million but there has been no cost estimate made on the fieldhouse.

On another matter, Exon said the chances of his compromising over Sen. J. W. Burbach's business inventory and farm equipment tax exemption bill are even more remote than before.

The measure, LB573, is scheduled for its first floor vote next Wednesday and Exon has promised to veto it unless the exemption provisions are greatly reduced.

Burbach has proposed a 50% exemption for next year, followed by a 70% exemption in 1973 and a 90% exemption in 1974.

At a public hearing on the bill before the unicameral's revenue committee the governor said he would be willing to accept a 10% exemption only.

Mosquito Control Meetings Planned

The State Health Department announced Thursday a series of five afternoon mosquito control workshops will be held throughout the state for officials and representatives of municipalities.

Workshops are scheduled in Crete, April 19; Lyons, April 20; Kearney, April 21; Scottsbluff, April 22 and North Platte April 23.

Subjects to be covered include techniques of mosquito control, environmental effects and guidelines to buying insecticides.

Seminar Planned

Dr. Joseph Lambert, associate professor of chemistry at Northwestern University and Alfred P. Sloan, fellow for the years 1968-70, will conduct a seminar for the University of Nebraska's Lincoln department of chemistry Thursday in Hamilton Hall.

GOP Chief Raps Bish For Timing

Republican State Chairman Lorraine Orr of North Platte Thursday said Milan Bish of Grand Island, who is slated to be elected to succeed her later this month, has the right to replace Joe Edwards as state executive secretary if he wishes.

"But his timing was very poor," Mrs. Orr told Lincoln newsmen.

Bish has asked Edwards to be prepared to vacate his party post after May 1.

Under the party's constitution, the executive secretary is named by the state chairman subject to approval of the state executive committee.

Mrs. Orr said Edwards "did an excellent job" in the party post.

But, she noted, "I don't think it matters what I think. It's up to the new state chairman."

Mrs. Orr, National Committeewoman Richard Herman of Omaha and National Committeewoman Pat Smith of Lincoln were each asked to comment on Bish's decision to replace Edwards.

Both Herman and Mrs. Smith declined to comment directly, noting that neither was involved in the decision.

"That, of course, was true of all of us," Mrs. Orr noted.

Bish is scheduled to be elected state chairman at a state central committee meeting in Lincoln April 24.

Edwards was appointed executive secretary by Mrs. Orr.

$4.75 Million In Bonds OK'd By Council

The City Council met in special session Thursday to approve the issuance of $4.75 million electric revenue bonds to the Wall Street firm of Blyth & Co.

The firm, representing eight firms in total, submitted the lowest interest rate of 4.69%, which Finance Director James Mallon described as a very favorable rate.

The city received eight bids with interest rates ranging up to 4.86%.

The interest rate on the revenue bond issue, which received Standard & Poor's highest bond rating, was slightly lower than that for two recent city bond issues.

The money will be used to pay for capital expenditures for the Lincoln Electric System.

MUNY POOL TO BE OPENED THIS SUMMER

The City Park and Recreation Board Thursday decided to open the Muny Pool this summer and take a chance on the pool being able to continue in an operable condition.

The board also decided that the future of the pool, which needs considerable repair work, will be decided at a later date.

Should the pool fail during the summer, persons will be transported to another pool, board members agreed.

Representatives of the local garden club also presented plans to distribute to residents where tree planting will take place and information on how to care for trees.

Britain Asserts Power To Seize Polluting Tankers

The New York Times

London — The British government Thursday asserted legal power to seize or sink any oil tanker threatening to pollute Britain's shores, whether inside or outside her territorial waters.

This broad power was grafted on to pending legislation by an emergency amendment. It passed the House of Commons first and then the Lords.

The hasty move by the Conservative government followed another in a series of damaging oil spills in the English Channel.

The Liberian tanker Panther went aground last week on the Goodwin Sands, which lie off the coast of southeast England. They are outside the three-mile limit that Britain claims for territorial waters.

The Panther was dragged off the Goodwin Sands last Sunday, moved across the English Channel and beached on the Dutch coast. But in the meantime a considerable amount of her oil had leaked out.

POSTCARD

by

On a sunny morning I went down and bought four seats on the jumbo 747 to Hawaii. I've been on them, but the moppets haven't. They're wild to go.

They said: "Is it big? Can we walk all over?" I said: "Enormous. You can walk everywhere but into first-class."

I bought us the bargain $85 tickets. Ride the same plane. See the same movie. Pay $1.50 for your lunch. Five hours-first-class touches ground a split second ahead of you. I don't intend to pay twice as much just for that.

My children belong to the air age. Fly through the air with the greatest of ease.

The airlines once sent me a handsome plaque: "In appreciation of your valuable contribution to air transport progress."

I hung it on the wall. I don't know what I contributed. Maybe because I quit holding the stewardess's hand and sobbing on takeoff.

I don't look on myself as a contributor. I think of myself as a survivor. When I think of some piston engine jobs I rode on—now I know why my palms were wet.

No more with the big jets. My hands are dry, my mouth is moist. (We moisten it with those delicious martinis the stewardess stirs up on the rolling cart.)

I like it on the big monsters—they're just 20 yards short of the length of a football field.

I rode the first one Boeing put out. Seattle to New York.

As we got on, they handed each of us a card: "This aircraft has not had a final certificate of air worthiness from the FAA so you may wish to consult your insurance company."

It was 5 a.m. in the cold morning.

But since then I get on with delight and assurance. The 747 has long been certificated. I am certificated—air worthy! Blast off, Captain. (And send around those martinis.)

The airlines don't really need confident passengers. What they need is a confident banker. These big airplanes cost $23 million a copy.

The children said: "What do we get to eat?" I said: "Something delicious." They said: "Can we get peanut butter and jelly sandwiches?"

I said: "I don't know what these people give you." (We're flying the new Northwest Orient out of the 747.)

I said: "Last time I was on United. I had a fabulous hot beef sandwich."

I said: "When I flew Western, it was like a Reuben. I flew PanAm's 747 twice on caviar and champagne. Press flights. We were all first-class."

They said: "Ick! We hate caviar."

I said: "Don't let it worry you. On $65 passengers we can't even afford lumpfish."

I flew in military planes.

strapped down the middle. I flew in the DC-3s, DC-4s, DC-6s, Con s tellations, double-deck Boeings they had to level off and cool down at times or they'd catch on fire.

Flying boats in the South Pacific. Single engines into Mexico. Company planes with built-in couches and bars. I think I was some kind of nut.

The big jets came along just in time. "All our BEST and OLDEST pilots want to fly this one," an airline man told me. That's for me.

Plattsmouth Airport Authority Formation Said Illegal Act

By United Press International
The Nebraska Supreme Court was told Thursday the formation of the Plattsmouth Airport Authority was "clearly an illegal act" and should be thrown out.
Omaha Attorney Glenn Burbridge made the statement during oral arguments before the high court in an appeal from the Cass County District Court.
He represents Ernest Elliott and Melvin Moritz of Plattsmouth, who filed a taxpayer suit seeking an injunction against the city and also requesting tax monies collected for airport use be returned.
Burbridge said the city failed to meet the provisions of state law which said an airport must be owned and operated at the time an authority is formed.
He noted the city did not have a license from the state to operate an airport and they had also leased land to be used without site approval by the state before the authority was formed.
Attorney Herbert J. Elworth, representing the city, noted, however, the lower court dismissed the action because the two men in their taxpayer suit failed to show "intent of wrong doing" on the part of the city council.

Foreman Set To Headline Boxing 'Triple'

New York (AP) —Unbeaten George Foreman will meet Argentina's Gregorio Peralta in the 15-round headline bout of a closed-circuit television boxing tripleheader on May 3.

Foreman, the World Boxing Association's top-ranked contender from Hayward, Calif., and Peralta will tangle at Oakland in a bout billed "for the heavyweight championship of the Americas."

Jimmy Ellis, of Louisville, Ky., a former WBA champion, takes on Canadian titleholder George Chuvalo at Toronto and Ernie Terrell of Chicago, another ex-WBA king, meets Luis Faustino Pires of Brazil at Chicago in a pair of 10-rounders that complete the televised bill.

Confirmation of the three bouts was announced by Loren Cassina, president of K.O. Inc., who said Loews Theaters, United Artists Theaters and RKO-Stanley Warner theaters have obtained the rights to the closed-circuit telecast.

Cassina said there would be no home telecast or radio broadcast of the tripleheader, which will be preceded by filmed highlights of the Joe Frazier-Muhammad Ali title fight last month.

It will be the first time that three fights in three different cities will make up a closed-circuit TV package.

Television Ready For Masters Golf

Augusta, Ga. (AP) —Portions of the final two rounds of the 35th Masters Golf Tournament will be televised nationally this weekend.

The Columbia Broadcasting System will begin a one-hour telecast at 4 p.m. CST Saturday and the final 90 minutes of play Sunday at 3 p.m. CST.

CBS will cover play on the 13th green and the entire 14th through 18th holes at the Augusta National Club.

Commentators will be Ray Scott, Frank Glierber, Henry Longhurst, John Deer, Pat Summerall and Bob Ferrier.

'Former Fistfighters' Teammates Again

Detroit (AP) —Pitcher Dave Boswell and Detroit Tiger manager Billy Martin who engaged in a fistfight in 1969 when both were with the Minnesota Twins, were reunited when the Tigers signed Boswell as a free agent.

The tall right-hander, who drew an estimated $35,000 salary from the Twins last season, was released by Minnesota this spring.

Carr Heads Bluejays' All-Opponent Cagers

Omaha —Austin Carr of Notre Dame heads the Creighton University all-opponent team chosen by the Bluejays and the Irish were the best team on the day they played Creighton —that is the result of post-season balloting by the Jays.

Carr was joined by Fred Brown of Iowa, Gene Phillips of Southern Methodist, Jim Chones of Marquette and Dennis Wuyck of North Carolina on the first team. Second five choices were Bob Fields of LaSalle, Mickey Davis of Duquesne, Collis Jones of Notre Dame, Harold Fox of Jacksonville and Willie Humes of Idaho State.

Republicans Reveal Plans To Finance Survey Of Young Nebraskans

Nebraska Republicans Thursday announced plans to finance and assist a scientific survey of young Nebraskans to determine their political views.

The study will be undertaken by a research team headed by Dr. Henry Albers, chairman of the management department in the University of Nebraska's College of Business Administration. Results of the survey — whether favorable or not — will be released to the public.

Allocate $5,000
The GOP is allocating $5,000 to launch the survey and is prepared to provide more financing once the project is underway, State Chairman Lorraine Orr of North Platte told a Lincoln news conference.

The Democratic Party is welcome to join in funding the survey, she said.

Mrs. Orr, National Committee member Richard Herman of Omaha and National Committeewoman Pat Smith of Lincoln announced plans for the unique study which, they said, could later be broadened to include all midwestern states.

"We want to focus on youth in order to better understand their aims and their goals and their dissatisfactions," Mrs. Orr said.

Want To Know Why
Of particular interest to the GOP, she said, is why young people are increasingly spurning both major parties for an independent political role.

"We want to know what they are thinking," she said. "We want to face the facts as they are," Herman noted. "We hope to find out what young people are interested in and why or why not they decide to join either party."

Mrs. Smith said the survey "may give us insight" into the thoughts of young Nebraskans, and should be of value to all citizens interested in political processes, including the parties and candidates.

The results may also prove helpful to the Legislature, Mrs. Orr said.

Scientific Probing
Albers said the survey will be scientific, probing the views of a large sample of young people.

"Maybe 1,000 is a good number," he said.

The survey will deal largely with "how Nebraska youth feels about the political parties and the political processes," he said.

Mrs. Orr said she hopes the study will also provide answers on "what they think of the issues and why."

The survey will be academically controlled in such a way that it is "not oriented toward either party," Herman pointed out. "We will only be providing funds and assistance."

Herman hopes the results of the study will be available yet this year.

Conservation
Group Agrees
To Designation
The Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission agreed Thursday to accept a designation by Gov. J. James Exon as the state agency for water quality planning.

The designation was needed by July 1 in order for Nebraska to receive federal matching funds for the construction of municipal sewage treatment facilities.

The State Water Pollution Control Council had last month, along with the commission, decided to seek the designation from Exon.

Commission Executive Secretary Dayle Williamson explained the designation means the commission will work with federal officials and agencies in planning state-federal projects.

Hearings Planned
On Amendments
The State Health Department announced Thursday a public hearing will be held April 19 on the division of mental retardation's 1971 state plan for the developmental disabilities service and facilities construction amendments of 1970.

The hearing will be 10 a.m. at the State Capitol.

Housing Authority To Meet At Night

Lincoln Housing authority meetings have been switched to evenings.

The housing authority, which meets the second Tuesday of each month in the morning, will hold its next regular meeting on May 12 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be in the City Council Chambers.

Commenting that housing has become a subject of much interest locally, Housing Authority

Commissioner Carroll Thompson made the proposal. Thompson said that many cannot come to meetings if they are held in the morning or afternoon. He added that this way everyone "would have an opportunity to better understand what this group is doing and hopes to accomplish."

The housing authority had earlier met in the small offices of its downtown headquarters but later moved its meetings to the City Council chambers as interest in the meetings increased.

The commissioners also decided to study whether Lincoln Civic Housing Inc. could pay in-lieu-of-taxes an amount equal to the full tax that normally would have been on the properties rather than the present 10% of the monthly rental payment.

Chairman Kenneth King said he would favor such a proposal if such a situation would be economically feasible.

Lincoln Civic Housing is a non-profit corporation set up by the housing authority to acquire houses the authority owns at the Arnold Heights housing area and lease them to low income persons under the rent-subsidy leased housing program.

Government Opens Jobs For Veterans

(C) Washington Star

Washington — The job market is so tight that the Nixon administration has agreed to let Vietnam veterans take Grade 1 and 2 jobs in the federal service without any competitive examination.

Noncompetitive jobs are available to veterans in Grades 3 to 5, but apparently there aren't enough of these positions available to meet their demands.

Therefore, veteran's organizations asked the Civil Service Commission and the White House to allow veterans to seek the lower-ranking jobs on a non-competitive basis too.

Previously the commission's view was that veterans wouldn't be interested in Grade 1 and 2 jobs since they only pay starting salaries of $4,326 and $4,897 a year.

But many veterans have found no jobs available for them in the private sector. Consequently, they are increasingly attracted to even the lowest-paid jobs in government.

In 1970, 32,400 Vietnam veterans were appointed to federal jobs. It appears that even larger numbers will be appointed this year and in the years ahead.

Under the program for returning veterans, they receive on-the-job training that eventually could qualify them for promotions to higher grades.

PATROLMAN SAVES INFANT

Memphis, Tenn., Patrolman B. R. Love uses mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to save 2-month-old Jerome Henry's life. The officer was conducting a routine traffic check when Mr. and Mrs. William Henry of Stuart, Fla., pulled up in their car and told the officer their son had stopped breathing and appeared dead. Officer Love revived him.

Lincoln Sertoma Club Honors Ten Scholars

Ten Lincoln seniors representing Lincoln's five high schools were honored Thursday by the Lincoln Sertoma Club at its annual scholarship award luncheon.

The students who were selected by their respective high school principals, were honored for outstanding scholarship and leadership in their schools.

Listed below are the honored students and the high schools they represent:

Donna Olson, Roger Fix, Lincoln East; Mary Owen, Dale Niebuhr, Lincoln High; Nancy Quinlan, Steven Guenzel, Lincoln Southeast; Laurie Anne Novak, Thomas K. Casady, Lincoln Northeast; Ellen Schroeder and Greg Sutton, Pius X.

Dr. C. Peter McGrath, Dean of Faculties at the University of Nebraska, in addressing the students, urged them to work as "practical idealists."

"Don't be afraid of interests that differ from preconceived plans," he said, adding that some of the research which may have seemed "remote and strange" at the time has resulted in great strides in scientific development.

He told them to "study your thing" and to take the opportunity to learn no matter "how strange and remote they may seem to you, your friends or parents."

"There is not substitute for competence," he said, adding that there is a great need in today's complicated society for "skilled, educated persons."

Yorty To Attend LHS Ceremonies

Los Angeles (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty said Thursday he will stop at Lincoln, Neb., as guest of honor April 23 at Lincoln High School, from which he was graduated in 1926.

Yorty plans the Lincoln stop while in route to New York City where he plans to spend April 27-29 pushing efforts by the economic development board to entice new business to Los Angeles.

Yorty said he will soon make two trips to New Hampshire, where he has said he might enter the Democratic presidential primary.

He said he will address a seminar in Manchester, N.H., on April 26 as guest of that state's Democratic State Committee, and will return May 15 for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day fund-raiser.

White House Hours

Washington (UPI) — President Nixon has ordered the White House to remain open for visitors for additional hours over the Easter holiday, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said. The normal visiting hours of 10 a.m. to noon Tuesday through Saturday will be extended on April 9, 10, 15, 16 and 17 to include visiting hours from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Gov. Exon Presented Deed For Western Tech College

Gov. J. James Exon was presented the deed and bill of sale for the land, buildings and equipment now known as the Western Nebraska Technical College Thursday afternoon.

The deed and bill of sale was presented to Exon, receiving them in behalf of the state, by Dr. Max Milo Mills, regional director of the Kansas City office of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Hospital Bond Issue Added To May Ballot

David City (UPI) — A special election on a proposed $1,300,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new 33-bed Butler County Hospital has been scheduled for Tuesday, May 11.

The formal call for the election was issued by the Butler County Board of Supervisors at a special meeting here.

The new structure would replace the present 25-bed David City Hospital, part of which has been in use as a hospital facility since 1911.

Market Closes Slightly Higher

New York (AP) — Stock prices rose slightly Thursday as the market advanced for the fourth session in a row. Trading was active.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials finished ahead 1.90 points at 920.39 and set a new 2200th closing high.

Advances on the New York Stock Exchange led declines by a narrow margin.

Gains were scored by steels and aircrafts. Drug stocks were lower. All other groups were mixed.

Some analysts said the market might have been stronger if President Nixon had set a definite date for final U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam in his speech Wednesday night. "Despite this letdown, the market is still more than holding its own," remarked Robert Stovall, director of research at Reynolds & Co.

Brokers said they were gratified that the market was able to overcome the selloff that usually occurs before the three-day Easter weekend. Exchanges will be closed Good Friday.

Big Board turnover declined to 17.59 million shares from 22.27 million shares Wednesday. Of the 1,680 issues traded on the Big Board, 775 advanced, and 625 declined. New yearly highs
